Obtain a Salesforce demo account for DataDirect Cloud with Salesforce.com

- 1) You can get a dev account at http://developer.force.com/
- You need to supply some contact information and a default user name.
 You will receive an email confirmation with a link to create your password.
- Login to Salesforce at http://login.salesforce.com and create a security token. The security token will be needed to connect to the Salesforce developer instance from DataDirect Cloud
